

Like many other issues , the city of Los Angeles ordinances are old and not to date.

The bill passed in 2013, requires the notion that, “car is king” thinking must be change.

All projects must be designed in away to reduce the number of cars on the road.

Please see attached article