A special LUPC meeting

Plazas Streets Alleys
Trees People Bikes Cars

As our urban environment adjusts to new State legislations and city planning codes to provide more urban density there are new opportunities to reorganize urban public space.

This special session of LUPC Venice looks at various projects that try to reuse and readjust our open and public spaces towards a healthier environment with more social equality. We will look at presentation by various committees and stakeholders to gain neighborhood impact and local suggestions to improve the proposals. We will present current proposals as they are proposed.

LUPC will not vote or decide on any of these presentations this is an informational meeting only.
