A. Request urging no further cuts to Neighborhood Council

March 20, 2012 Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa City Hall 200 Spring Street Los Angeles, Ca 90012 Members of the LA City Council

Miguel Santana City Administrative Officer City Hall 200 N. Spring Street Los Angeles, Ca 90012

Dear Mayor, Councilman Rosendahl, Members of the LA City Council and CAO Santana:

The Venice Neighborhood Council at its March 20 regular board meeting voted unanimously to urge no further cuts to neighborhood council funding in Fiscal Year 2012-13. Our councils do more than our fair share, all as volunteers to carry out the mandate of the City Charter and the Plan, to educate the public about and help facilitate access to the City bureaucracy of the City of Los Angeles. We are grass roots democracy in action and cutting our funding any further is the antithesis of the purpose of the neighborhood council movement.

Sincerely,

Linda Lucks President

Dear Sirs:

RE: Increase Summer Maintenance Budget Requirements for Venice Beach

On March 20, 2012, The Venice Neighborhood Councils voted unanimously to urge the County and the City of Los angeles to increase budgets for summer Venice Beach area maintenance and staffing purposes to include adequate bike path, trash pick up, lighting and bathroom maintenance.

Sincerely,

Linda Lucks President

C. VNC Board Support for Legislation Supporting Venice Post Office

Addressees: Senator Feinstein, Senator Boxer, Congressman Waxman

Dear [Senator/Congressperson],

As you may know, our historic Venice Main Post Office (VMPO) at 1601 Main Street is for sale and subject to imminent closure. We ask for your support to stop this action as soon as possible.

Our VMPO was designed in the Spanish Revival style in 1939 and is widely recognized as an important historic resource. It also houses a mural depicting the early history of Venice, by renowned artist Edward Biberman. VMPO's confluence of art, architecture and public service to our community for seventy-two years is deeply appreciated and highly valued by Venetians and Coastal visitors alike. Its imminent closure has united a broad coalition of Venetians to pursue wide-ranging efforts to save it.

The USPS action will destroy this community center. Further, it will replace a fully capable postal facility with a USPS service consolidation that will fail to meet its legally required service obligation.

The Postal Service has already reduced services at VMPO: Only two of its five windows are typically open, creating long lines of customers, who are often surprised and further frustrated to find inadequate First Class stamp supplies – the main source of USPS revenue.

USPS intends to offer only these reduced services at an alternate facility. By this transfer, USPS defines its action as a "relocation" rather than a "closure," thus allowing USPS to avoid the scrutiny required of proposed closures. This also denies VMPO protection under the recently announced post office closure moratorium, enabling quick closure and sale of VMPO, according to USPS officials.

Venice Neighborhood Council fully supports our community's efforts to preserve our historic post office for postal service to forty thousand Venetians and millions of visitors. As such, we ask two things:

- That you apply urgent attention to protect our Venice Main Post Office under the moratorium umbrella. The USPS should be urged to include the VMPO in the moratorium to allow for further public input in addressing the closure of this important historic resource.
- That you prioritize preserving the robust service level and capacity which the US Postal Service has provided by law to the American people for nearly two and a half centuries. We applaud your efforts to amend S1789; we further ask that you consider supporting S1853/HR3591, with its multiple initiatives to provide adequate review, relieve the US Postal Service of excessive funding burdens and introduce long-term fiscal balance and innovation incentives. By exercising leadership today to save our country's most trusted public service, you can restore trust that Congress can do what is right for Americans during challenging times. Please feel free to contact me with any questions you may have. We look forward to supporting your progress to save Venice Main Post Office and so many others. Sincerely,

Linda Lucks, President

Venice Neighborhood Council

PROJECT SUMMARY TO VNC:

The project consists of the construction of a 2-story addition to an existing 1-story single family dwelling (SFD), demolition of an existing 1-car garage and construction of a new accessory building with a 1-car garage, 2nd story recreation room, new roof deck and attached carport. The site is a 5400 SF lot that is zoned R2-1 and located in the Oakwood Milwood Specific Plan sub-area. The applicant is requesting side yard zoning adjustments for the SFD and the accessory building, and continued use and maintenance of an existing 7' high fence and gate as well as an existing 8-1/2' hedge in the front yard.

SYNOPSIS:

Setbacks and Fence Height

Side yard setbacks are defined in the LA City Zoning code. Fence height is regulated by the zoning code and the Venice Specific Plan (VSP).

The LA City zoning summary sheet shows that standard lot widths for R2 zones are 50' and lists a 10% sidey ard setback requirement for lots having a width under 50'. The lot for this project lot is 40' so the corresponding side yard setbacks should therefore be 4' for this lot. The absolute minimum side yard setback is listed as 3'. Request #1 below notes that requested side yard setback adjustments are 3'-8" on the north side and 4'-0" on the south. Therefore the requested adjustment for side yard is only 2" and insignificant.

An additional 1'-0" of setback length is required for each building story above the second. Both the SFD addition and the new accessory building are 2 stories. The latter has a roof deck accessed by an exterior stair, but as submitted, that does not constitute a third story therefore the additional 1' length is not required. Accessory Building side yard setbacks are defined by the same parameters as those for the main building on the site per the Zoning code. Therefore the adjustment request to allow zero on the north side setback at grade and a 2' setback at the 2nd story level is required to be in lieu of 4'-0", not 6'-0" as stated in the application. Front yard fence and hedge height is required to be no more than 42 inches. Applicant is requesting to maintain a 7'-0" fence and 8'- 6" hedge height in project front yard.

Parking Requirements

Parking for a lot in the R2 zone is 2 spaces per unit one of which needs to be covered. The parking as designed is sufficient.

Zoning Administrator (ZA) Hearing

At a hearing held March 1, 2012, the neighbor adjacent to the property, (thought at the LUPC hearing to be be unopposed to the project) stated that he was opposed to the 0' setback immediately south of his property and requested that the ZA decide in favor of maintaining at least a 2'- 0" side yard adjacent to his site. He voiced concerns regarding fire safety, age of his wood structures and keeping options open for future owners of his property.

Requests (per ZA hearing notice): 1)Side Yard Setback SFD / LAMC Section12.09-C,2: Continuedmaintenance of north sideyard setback of 3'-8" and south side yardsetback of 4'-

0" in lieu of 5'-0" required in conjunction with a 2 story addition to existing SFD.

2) Side Yard Setback Accessory Building / LAMC Section 12.21-C,5(f): To allow a 0' north side yard setback for new detached garage and a 2' side setback for new recreation room at second level above in lieu of 5' setback required.

	3) Front Fence Height / LAMC Section 12.21-C, 1(g): To permit continued use and maintenance of a 7' front yard fence, pedestrian gate and vehicle gate, and an 8-1/2' hedge in lieu of the 3-
	1/2' height required.

ARGUMENTS FOR THIS PROJECT:

Neighbors Notification

Applicant has contacted owners of adjacent properties and none have expressed opposition to this project. The neighbor to the north who will be most impacted by the setback adjustments for the accessory building supports the project. (See ZA Hearing information above)

Character, Scale and Massing

With the exception of the existing over height fence and hedge along Milwood Avenue that hides the architecture from view, the project scale and character of this project are in keeping with the guidelines of the Venice Specific Plan. The owner has opened his garden to the community during several Venice Garden Tours, most recently last year.

ARGUMENTS AGAINST THIS PROJECT:

Sideyard Setbacks

Side yard setbacks serve several purposes in residential neighborhoods. In addition to allowing physical access by fire, police, repair and maintenance personnel to all sides of a structure, they provide the opportunity for air and light to penetrate the site and the building. Setback adjustments that reduce the distance between neighboring buildings and adjacent property lines compromise these purposes and once in place become relatively permanent for extended periods of time. Over-Height Fences

The LA Zoning code and the Venice Specific Plan both require fences landscaping located along the front edge of this property to be no taller than 42" high. These regulations serve distinct purposes adding to the inviting open character of the neighborhood, providing viewing of the architectural variety required by the VSP and discouraging crime by allowing the residents a clear view of street activities beyond their property line. This communal "surveillance effect" has been shown to deter criminal behavior. Although the over height fence and hedge existed at the time the owner purchased this lot, keeping them at the current height limits the connection between the community and this property.
